

INFORMATION ON AUDITIONING FOR FILMBITES' INTERMEDIATE, ADVANCED AND INTENSIVE SCREEN ACTING CLASSES

Filmbites' training at Intermediate, Advanced and Intensive level is designed to train young actors who are focused on a career in the screen acting industry.

To help place the student in the most suitable course for their skill level, Filmbites' Head of Acting, Shanta Surendran or an Advanced acting instructor will assess your level based on any filmed work you are able to provide and/or performance in a placement workshop.

You will then receive an invitation to join a course most appropriate to your skill level. Begin placed at the most appropriate level means you don't miss out on any necessary skills for future development, and that Filmbites classes are effective as our students are at comparable levels.

HOW TO APPLY

To be assessed, applicants are asked to either submit filmed work or undertake a placement workshop.

FILMED WORK

Filmed work can be:

1. any short film, TVC, student film, self-made film etc. that best shows the applicant's acting skills and/or
2. two 1 to 2 minute self-taped contrasting monologues of your choice (e.g. one serious, one more up-beat), either self-written or prepared. Filming your self-tape on a phone is fine.

If you need some monologues try here or here.

Please email your filmed work to Shanta via filmbitescastingassist@gmail.com together with any information on your previous acting training and experience.

ONE-ON-ONE AUDITIONS

Alternatively, you can book a one-on-one audition with Shanta. This will include:

1. a guided warm-up,
2. improvisation exercise,

3. a 1 to 2 minute monologue of your choosing. Your monologue can be either self-written or prepared - if you need some examples click here or here.
4. Shanta working with you on a scripted piece. This will be emailed to you once your audition day/time is confirmed.

Please email peta@filmbites.com.au with your preferred date and time, together with any information on your previous acting training and experience. You will be sent a reply email to confirm your time and two scripts to choose from.
